Telegrams from interior points report the restoration of order in nearly all cities and towns, but in many cities, notably St. Petersburg and Moscow, the better classes of the population are greatly disturbed owing to the rumors of approaching attacks by the "Black Hundred," composed of the most ignorant types of the populace, which, according to these rumors, are scheduled to take place in St. Petersburg to-night and in Moscow to-morrow. The apprehension in St. Petersburg has become so great that the prefect of police who succeeded General Trepoff in command of the city police has instructed his subordinates to take the fullest measures to crush any disorder in its incinency so as to distake the fullest measures to crush any disorder in its inciplency so as to dis-abuse the minds of the "lovalists" of the active. The spiteful looking muzzles of machine guns peer through or fices in green-painted shields up and down the street leading to the Cathedral Square and market place, grim reminders of the use of one of them by a party of officers on Wednesday night who fired point blank at the mutineers, foreing them to fly, broken and disorganized.

The Officers' Club is a scene of desolution. As soon as the mob obtained the upper hand a crowd ran to the club and bombarded, the windows and doors with rifle bullets and stones and wrecked much of the furniture. The roters, however, did not set fire to the club.

The reports that the mutinous sallors killed some of their officers are not confirmed, but it is positively asserted that a number of officers sought safety in hiding or flight.

Revised Dixie.

A revised version of "Dixie," the words composed by Mrs. James Mercer Garnett, honorary president of the Virginia Division, was presented, with the request that it be adopted by the Daughters. Thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Garnett were expressed, but it was decided finally that the Daughters retain "Dixie" unchanged.

that the Daughters retain "Dixie" unchanged.

Mrs. Randolph presented the report of the Fitzhugh Lee monument on its merit, without appeal, leaving it with the Daughters to help to put Fitzhugh Lee on horseback, with his sword in hand, among the other heroes to whom memorials have been raised in Richmond.

Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, of Norfolk, made an appeal to the convention for the erection of a memorial to Commodore Matthew Fontsine Maury, Miss Preston, of Smyth county, stated to the convention that at the recent assembling of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Roanoke, Va., this work had been taken up by them, to be carried on te the national organization.

An animated discussion followed, during which Mrs. Walke's motion, and a substitute motion submitted by Mrs. George A. Lyon were lost, not because the convention was not in sympathy with Mrs. Walke, but because it felt that action on its part, at the present time, would be premature and an invasion of the rights of the D. A: R., who were not officially represented at this convention.

Delightful Luncheon.

After the morning's adjournment, the delegates took the cars at Eighth and Broad Streets for the Soldiers' Home, where a delightful inneheon was served in Randolph Hall. The grounds at the Home were gay with chrysanthemums and roses in full bloom. In the hall Captain Euker was introduced to the ladies by Mrs. Randolph. Mr. David Brown, Mr. Lightfoot and a number of other veterans added to the social pleasure of the occasion.

The ladies of the Camp Brilliary looked after the wants of all present in a most bountiful and hospitable and elegant fashion. The young ladies who assisted the auxiliary were the junior members of the Richmond Chapter and the Delightful Luncheon.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Mrs. R. A. Williams, Wife of the Pastor, Welcomes the Delegates.

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., November 10.—The Woman's Missionary Union of Virginia opened its eighth annual session at the Baptist Church here last night. There are over two hundred delegates from all over the State present. Mrs. Funk, of Harrisonburg, led-the services and delivered an interesting address on the subject, "The Life That Overcomes." She made a most interesting talk, and earnestly appealed to her hearers to try to overcome in this life, rather than be overcome. Mrs. Williams, of Richmond, led in prayer, and Mrs. Hardy, of Richmond, delivered a talk on the subject of the evening. A number of delegates responded to Mrs. Funk's request for appropriate passages of Scripture, and a chain prayer was led by Mrs. Barker, of Laurel Hill, and closed by Miss Armstrong, of Baltimore.

The regular business session of the union opened this morning in the Baptist Church at 1830 o'clock, Mrs. Barker, of Laurel Hill, the president, presiding. After the opening hymn, "Nearer, My, God, to Thee," Mrs. M. F. Sanford, of Jefforsonton, led the Bible lesson, the subject of which was Hannah. She gave an interesting talk on the life and character of this godly woman and drew some valuable lessons from her life. Mrs. Wills led in prayer.

Mrs. T. E. Bajrd, of Norfolk, made a pleasing response.

Miss Bidgood, chairman, made the report on enrollment, showing the number of delegates present to be the largest ever registered at any meeting.

Miss Annie Armstrong, of Baltimore, was introduced, and made a short address, which was warmly received.

Mrs. Barker, the president, then delivered her annual address, giving an historical sketch of the work of the Baptist women of the South, and particularly the Virginia women. She told of the development and growth of the missionary work, and gave much interesting information, affording great pleasure to the audience by the clear and able manner in which she treated the subject.

Mrs. Barker was given a vote of thanks for her report and it was ordered spread on the minutes. Mrs. W. S. Leake, of Richmond, corresponding secretary, made her report, which was most gratifying, telling of the great growth, both in interest and numbers, and the increase in the offerings for different causes. Mrs. Leake was given a rising vote of thanks. Mrs. A. M. Gwathmey, of Richmond, treasurer, made an itenized report of her work, which was adopted, and Mrs. William Ellysen, of Richmond, the auditor, reported that the irreasurer's report was found correct. Mrs. G. F. Williams, of Richmond, made a report as super-intendent of bands, and read the honor roll of forty-two bands. Mrs. R. M. Hardy, of Staunton, led the Union in prayer. Miss Rudd, the secretary, read the recommendations from the executive committee, which were adopted and presented a supplementary report from that committee, which were adopted and presented as a sales adopted and ordered to be inserted as a notice for next year, Notices given lust year for amendments to the constitution were read and adopted.

The following committees were appointed. Obstaines—Mrs. Hill. Culpoper; Mrs. W. M. Scott, Northampton; Mrs. S. O. have given rise to the serrow and gloom that now overcast the Jews of Russia. This prejudice, he said, is a virus that produces the same effect wherever it appears and while to-day it might affect the Jews it might to-morrow affect the Christians in a like degree. The interest, the speaker said, was larger than that of any one nation. All of mankind looked with horror and fright upon the bloody spectrals.

with horror and fright upon the bloody spectacle.

Referring more particularly to the significance of the Russian reign of terror Dr. Mitchell recalled a statement made at a previous mass-meeting held in Richmond. One of the speakers at this meeting declared that the empire of the Czars was too wide and mighty to be crushed from without, but that it might easily commit suicide.

"And this massacre." said Dr. Mitchell in effect, "I hold to be one of the most unmistakable evidences of a national suicide. The prediction was true and the first step was Kishineff."

Continuing, Dr. Mitchell assured the congregation that the people of Richmond would unite with it heartily and liberally in any movement to assist in the work of relief. They should not be content, however, he declared, to bring immediate relief only.

He realized that this was probably beyond the purposes of the meeting, but he represent the bore that it would be yond the purposes of the meeting, but he expressed the hope that it would be possible to devise some means by which possible to devise some means by which the horrible persecution could be prevented in the future. He hoped that in some way to provide for the sufferers a refuge in other lands that would be only too glad to receive them.

Appeal of Dr. Calisch.

Appeal of Dr. Calisch.

At the conclusion of the speech of Dr. Mitchell an executive committee was appointed, consisting of Dr. Calisch, chairman; Isaac Held, secretary; L. Z. Morris, treasurer; Julius Straus, president of the Beth Ahabah Congregation; Charles Hutzler, vice-president of the Congregation; M. Cohen, president of the Sir Moses Montifioro Congregation, and H. Fisher, president of the Kenneseth Israel Congregation, and such other members as those named may desire to add. This committee was called to meet Sunday orning at 10 o'clock to form plans and appoint subcommittees for a thorough canvass of the city for funds. It was also determined to receive subscriptions on the spot, and a committee of three gentlemen was appointed to take the names.

Before this was done Dr. Calisch made an appeal that touched the hearts of every man and women present. The money to be raised, he declared, could not restore the dead, but it could succor and relieve the living, at least in part.

It would be necessary to give liberally were it sacrifices had to be made, for, however great the amount raised it could never be great enough. A sum of $125,000 given by Lord Rothschild and the remaining $55,000 raised in the United States by the committee of which Mr. Schiff is treasurer, and Mr. Osear Straus, of New York, national president. An effort would be made to raise at least $1,000,000, but even this would not be sufficient to meet the needs of the sufferers.

The picture Dr. Calish drew of the heart-rending sorrows of the Jews of Russid drew tears to the eyes of many. He declared that the Russian government was directly and indirectly responsible and that some day before the bar of humanity and at the bar of high heaven, it must answer for the sacrifice for Russia's he said, were the sacrifice for Russia's Before this was done Dr. Calisch made

He referred to othr occasions when his race had been martyred. He appealed for a generous response to the pitiful cry for help. He asked that the men and women present go forth determined to stir the entire community to action.

It was announced by Dr. Callisch that the Russian Jewish colony of Richmond Appeal to Government.

A stirring appeal was made by Mr. M. S. Block for action looking to the prevention of other massacres of Jaws in Russia. Mr. Joseph Walleratein followed with a formal motion that the meeting call upon the United States government to exert its influence to check the reign of blood and murder in Russia.

He thought that if such a step were taken in every congressional district in the country it would compel the attention of Washington government. He moved that the executive committee be requested to prepare a memorial to be presented to the Secretary of State through the United States Senators from Virginia and the Congressman of the Third District, demanding that the government take some action to prevent another nation from barbarity toward a portion of its people. The motion prevailed unanimously and a few minutes later the meeting adjourned.

To-night Dr. Callsch will leave for North Carolina, South Carolina and Goorgia in the interests of the movement. OBITUARY.

had placed in his hands a little fund of $15, mostly in one and two dollar notes. This amounteement created great applause. Subscriptions were then taken in the consregation present and the sum of $655.50 was raised in a few moments. This with the other gifts made a total of $910.50 for the day.

AMELIA COURTHOUSE, VA., November 10.—Dr. Michelorogh Y. Cheatham, of this county, died Thursday and his funcral took place here to-day and was attended by a large crowd.

The funeral services were held in the Episcopal Church, and conducted by Rector V. Wrenn. The burial took place at the old family home, about three miles from here.

Dr. Cheatham was 54 years old. He was the son of Dr. Wm. J. Cheatham (who during his long life was one of Amelia's valued citizens, a large landholder and a physician of wide practice). Dr. Cheatham was born near this place, attended the University of Virginia and took the medical course at the Medical College of Virginia. He practiced medicine first in Chesterfield county, then spent several years in Texas, but finding the climate unsuitable there, returned to Amelia and for about thirty years has been practicing medicine here. He enjoyed a large practice.

Dr. Cheatham wis unmarried. He leaves several sisters, Mrs. Frank Hundley, Mrs. Carter Berkeley, Mrs. Childress, Mrs. Edward Abbott and Miss Belle Cheatham.

For several years Dr. Cheatham was chairman of the board of supervisors of Amelia and was appointed county superintendent of schools just before his illness, but could never sive his whole attention to this work and resigned.
